HAYSWOOD DAMAGED

By Fire Saturday Night—A Midnight Blaze That Alarmed the City—Much Excitement and Destruction Threatened

About a quarter to eleven o'clock last Saturday night, fire was discovered in the frame East wing of Haywood Seminary in West Fourth street, occupied by Mr. J. Foster Barbour and family as a summer residence; the Misses Hays occupying the Western portion of the premises.

The blaze was discovered by Miss Frances Barbour who at once gave the alarm and the Fire Department telephoned for. Upon the arrival of the Department the East portion of the frame building was a mass of flames, but when the hose was turned on, the roaring elements soon succumbed to the water pressure and the blaze subsided confining the destruction to the two or three rooms on the East, including bathroom, linen closets, etc. The residence portion of the building occupied by Mr. Barbour and family was not burned, but the water injured many valuable articles of furniture and bric-a-brac.

The total loss will reach $2,000, fully covered by insurance. There was no insurance on the clothing, linen, etc. lost by the family.

The portion of the structure destroyed was the home of the late Dr. John Hays.

It will be rebuilt at once.

The Fire Department was retarded in opening up on the blaze, owing to the fact that all three of the Fire Companies were on hand but there was only one wrench to the fire plug among the three companies.

THE Fourth of July is neither a National holiday nor a rational holiday.

HE who hesitates is lost. A Portsmouth man carried his marriage license around with him six months before he used it.

THE commerce of the world is now estimated to exceed $26,000,000,000 per annum, of which about $13,750,000,000 is returned as imports.

THE next National Republican Convention will be composed of 992 delegates, of which 332 will come from the South. The number of votes required to nominate a candidate for President is 497.

NEARLY 5,000 Americans dead and injured as a result of Fourth of July celebrations is a record too awful to picture could all the victims be assembled at once where one could view the entire mass of killed, burned and crippled.

• THAT the United States is a very "free country" was never better demonstrated than by the laxity of the law in the matter of the selection of Juries in murder trials. In nine cases out of ten the attorneys for the defense choose the Jury—the rest is easy.

THE Pennsylvania Republican State Convention, held June 6th, endorsed the railroad policy of President ROOSEVELT, and declared "unflinching adherence to the great principle of protection to American labor, American industries and American products."

If the flaming reports of the alleged drunken orgies of the Kentucky and South Carolina state troops, telegraphed over the country from Norfolk, Va., were exaggerated and wholly untrue, the proof should be furnished for publication at once. The affair is too grave a one to thus be passed over lightly.

Those old Latin fellows knew a thing or two about health and hygiene and considered exercise the best physician and the open air and water the best medicine.

JUDGE HARTMAN of Lebanon, Ind., handed down an opinion that the licensing of saloons was unconstitutional, and so delighted was Mrs. CARRIE NATION with the decision that when she heard that the Judge was to make a lecture tour in the West she wired him as follows:

"God bless you. I'm going to hug you as soon as I see you."

The Judge at once wired "Aunt" CARRIE as follows:

"Not if I see you first, you won't."

PERSEVERANCE.

Judge.

The mistress of a large, fashionable home had just secured a new maid of Irish extraction, and who had just come from the "ould sod." Being on friendly terms with her neighbor, she told the maid that the neighbor could use anything she desired.

One day the mistress went out for all morning. On her return she found that the telephone which had been installed in the hall was gone. Calling the maid, she inquired for it.

"Praise, mum," answered Bridget, "th' lady across th' shtrate asked me if she cud use th' telephone, an' Oi sinit it over to her; but Oi hod an awful toime to git it unshcrewed."

Superintendents of County Roads, Smoot and Luttrell are today going over the county turnpikes to learn the extent of the damage done by last night's storm. The loss to Mason county is several thousand dollars.

LAST NIGHT'S STORM

Terrific Downpour of Rain, Severe Thunderstorm and Nearly a Tornado of Wind

The heavy rainstorm of Saturday afternoon was followed up by a record-breaker of Sunday night when the water poured from the heavens in Niagara-like streams, flooding the lowlands of the country, damaging crops, etc., to the extent of thousands of dollars.

In Maysville the rain swept like torrents down hills and on the streets and the thoroughfares resembled rivers for several hours.

There were no fatalities so far reported, although lightning played havoc with barns, trees, stock, etc.

At Murphysville lightning struck a tree under which a flock of sheep were huddled, and entirely demolished the tree and killed 10 of the sheep.

A tree on corner of Fourth and Limestone was rent in twain by a thunderbolt.

A valuable mare belonging to Mr. Lewis K. Parry was also struck by lightning and killed.

Out near Fernleaf a large barn on the farm of Taylor Asbury was struck by lightning. The fury of the elements was at its height in this section.

At Dover numerous trees were blown down, and throughout the county the damage was very great probable $25,000 from last night's storm.

A COURTSHIP IN SCRIPTURE.

More Proof That Nothing is Impossible to Cupid.

If this story had come from Topeka, we should have been more readily inclined to believe it, because Topeka's familiarity with all things Biblical is proverbial. But it is a good story, even if it isn't its first appearance on earth, and it is told thus by the Jewell County Monitor: A young gentleman at church conceived a most sudden and violent passion for a young lady, in the next pew and felt desirous of entering into a courtship on the spot, but the place not suiting a formal declaration, the exigency suggested the following plan: He politely handed his fair neighbor a Bible open, with a pin stuck in the following text, "And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another." She returned it with the following, second chapter of Ruth, verse 10: "Then she fell on her face and bowed herself to the ground and said unto him, Why have I found favor in thine eyes that thou shouldst take notice of me, seeing I am a stranger to you?" He returned the book pointing to verse 12 of the third epistle of John: "Having many things to write unto you, but I trust to come unto you and speak face to face." From the above interview the marriage took place the following week.—Kansas City Journal.

WANTED THE WHOLE HOGS.

Widow Fully Determined to Get Her Money's Worth.

"It's curious how the people have turned around within a couple of years and become so distrustful," said the old farmer, as the matter of graft and trusts were touched upon. "I had four hogs to sell and advertised them in the village paper. Half a dozen people came out to see them, and among them was a widow. She wanted me to swear to the breed, the weight and the fact that the hogs were in good health. 'She wanted to be assured of their good eyesight and hearing.' She wanted to be satisfied that they were good-natured hogs. She wanted me to sign a paper that I had raised the porkers instead of stealing them. When I had done all this and the sale was about effected she suddenly turned and walked away. 'Hello, now, what's the matter?' I called after her. 'You've cut their tails off,' she replied. 'Yes,' that was done when they were pigs.' 'Then you knock off 50 cents apiece for missing tails, or I don't buy. It's whole hog or none and no graft!'"

Special Guidance Needed.

Edwin A. Halsey, late assistant charge d'affaires of the senate press gallery, who hails from Virginia, is responsible for the following story: An old darkey who had not been to church for a long time appeared one night at prayer meeting. His presence at the meeting was commented on by one of his brethren of the church. The conversation between the two was something like this: "Say, Brother Johnson, I ain't saw you heah at de meetin' house for a considerable duration." "Dat's so," replied Brother Johnson; "I've been very busy." "Well, how come you heah to-night, Brother Johnson?" "Well, you see, it's like dis Brother Jackson. I've repaired a chicken coop for some white gentlemen, and I've got a situation putting a fence round a watermelon patch for another gentlemen, and I needs special guidance from temptation."

Right of Way.

As a train from Washington recently slowed up before the station at a small town in Virginia the mail bag was thrown to a darky lad of perhaps 12 years, who at once started off at a brisk trot to the post office. He had not gone more than ten yards before a large negro boy ran into him, almost knocking the youthful messenger off his feet. "Look heah, niggah!" exclaimed the messenger, with a glance of indignation, "Youse tryin' to git in jail, ain't you? Youse interferin' wid de United States mail, niggah. When yo' jars me yo' jars de government of de United States!"—Harper's Weekly.

Fashion in Medicine.

There is a fashion in most things, and medicine during the last ten years has appeared to me to be as much under its sway as dress or charity. Half one's duties as a medical man is devoted to explaining away the diagnosis of the fashionable physician, which, however, creditable to the diagnostician, is particularly unfortunate for the patient, who readily makes a pet of the malade a la mode.—D. W. Samways, in British Medical Journal.

Life on a Troopship.

The troopship of to-day revels in luxuries compared with its compeer of other days, and if the soldier nowadays grumbles to himself at his cramped accommodation and his ship's fare, he can take comfort in the thought that he enjoys advantages that his brother-in-arms of the sailing-ship period never even dreamed of.—The Captain.

Stung!

He—"What would your father do if I told him I wanted to marry you?" She—"He'd refer the matter to me." He (hopefully)—"And what would you do?" She—"I'd refer the matter to the young man who proposed to me and was accepted while you were trying to make up your mind."

MRS. JAMES B. HAGGIN

A Beautiful Kentuckian Who Leads in New York and London Society

Courier-Journal.

"Mrs. James B. Haggin, who is now abroad, is not only one of the best-known and most admired women in Kentucky as well as in the smart set in New York, but seems to be rapidly acquiring an international reputation as a beauty and social leader.

"As Miss Pearl Voorheis, Mrs. Haggin was a pronounced belle in Versailles, her home, and in Louisville. Since her marriage to Mr. Haggin she has spent most of her time in New York, though she makes occasional flying visits to her country place, 'Elmendorf,' near Lexington.

"The following extract, headed 'A New Fair American Invader,' from a British newspaper, dated June 8th, is of interest.

"Among the hundreds of American ladies who are this season to aid in the invasion of West End society one of the most prominent is Mrs. James Ben Ali Haggin, of New York. Mrs. Haggin is the young wife of the American gentleman who has of late been shortly described in the English papers as 'the Western millionaire,' and has gained considerable recent notoriety through his connection with the Reader perjury case.

"Mrs. Haggin's visit to London is for the purpose of being present at the international Horse Show. She is herself a keen horsewoman."

The largest riding hall in the army will be at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., the contract for the construction of which has been awarded by the Quartermaster General to Fred Tarry for $73,350. It will be 300 feet long and 100 feet wide.

In India alone the losses to the British army from typhoid fever amount to half a battalion a year. The latest reports furnish proof that the practice of anti-typhoid inoculations in the army has resulted in a substantial reduction in the incidence and death rate of enteric fever among the inoculated.

The Virginia will pass down tonight from Pittsburgh.

The river is rising and another run of Pittsburgh coal is coming.

The five towboats to leave Pittsburgh on this rise have in tow forty-one barges.

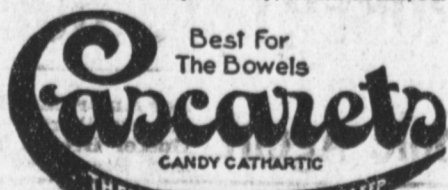

The Kanawha coal operators have several towns of coal located at Point Pleasant, W. Va., which will start for Cincinnati and Southern ports as soon as the Pittsburgh water reaches there.

Despite the fact there was an unusually great amount of water in the upper Ohio river during June, the tonnage shipped fell way below the tonnage of June 1906. The tonnage for last month was 218,586 and for June, 1906, 372,090 of which 356,200 was coal going down stream.

A new style of boiler for towboats has been installed on the Crusader. Chief Engineer Shaff of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company designed the new boiler, which may revolutionize the method of creating power for big towboats. Nearly all the big disasters on the rivers are due directly or indirectly to some part of the boilers giving way under unusual pressure.

Sour Stomach

"I used Cascarets and feel like a new man. I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia and sour stomach for the last two years. I have been taking medicine and other drugs, but could find no relief only for a short time. I will recommend Cascarets to my friends as the only thing for indigestion and sour stomach and to keep the bowels in good condition. They are very nice to eat."

KENTUCKY HORSES
For German Army—The Kaiser's Agent Leases Bluegrass Farm For Extensive Breeding Purposes

A recent news dispatch from Berlin, Germany, says:
The shipment of German stallions to the famous stock farm, Field Place, in Kentucky, which has recently been leased by an imperial representative, Dr. Arnold Frank, for the purpose of raising and training horses for the German cavalry, will begin at once. Kentucky mares are to be bred to these stallions.
Experts of the War Department are convinced that better results can be achieved there than in the government studs in the remount province of East Prussia, where the chief of the imperial stables, Herr Von Oettingen, has committed the serious mistake of introducing too much full-blooded stock, causing gradual deterioration.
Kentucky horses have been imported and tried for several years.
Extensive training establishments will be maintained in connection with the stock farm, which will be under the management of German army officers.
The latter will be employed during the first three years in preparing the young horses, of which Dr. Frank has purchased several thousand throughout Kentucky and Tennessee, after which the first product of the stud will be ready for training.

HISTORIC SPOT
Cumberland Gap to Have Tri-State Boulevard With Monument of Daniel Boone

The Government and states of Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee are now constructing a macadamized road through the Cumberland Gap. The road will be five miles in length and will be finished by October 1st. Its course will be through the historic old Cumberland Gap, along the same path which was blazed by Daniel Boone when he first came into Kentucky from Virginia to the town of Cumberland Gap, Tenn.

Though but five miles in length the road will pass through parts of three states. Three miles of the road will be in Kentucky.

The cost of the road, exclusive of the convict labor will be $16,000.

A movement has also been set on foot to erect a monument of Daniel Boone on this new Government road through Cumberland Gap, where the explorer first entered Kentucky.

A LASTING EFFECT.

This Evidence Should Prove Every Claim Made for Doan's Kidney Pills in Maysville.

Relief from the pains and aches of a bad back is always welcome to every backache sufferer; but to cure a lame, weak or aching back is what's wanted. Cure it so it will stay cured. It can be done. Here's the strongest evidence to prove it:

C. L. Hubbard, employed in Cablish's grocery, Cox Building, and living at 325 West Third street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"As I stated in a testimonial given in 1900, Doan's Kidney Pills brought me positive relief from inflammation of the bladder and a disturbed action of the kidneys. After some time I felt a slight return of the trouble but again used Doan's Kidney Pills and found complete relief. Now, after nearly five years I feel able to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills with even greater confidence than before. The results of its use in my case have been very satisfactory.
